

RISASection

Making Complex Sections Simple

RISASection is a powerful product that makes creating complex cross sections incredibly easy. The simple drag and drop interface is quickly mastered. When you combine this feature with powerful editing and aligning tools, RISASection can build any section you can conceive.

Why RISASection stands apart:

- Powerful align, stack and rotate tools
- Directly edit section dimensions or use the “snap to grid” function
- Powerful calculation engine
- English or metric units
- Versatile reporting options
- Multiple materials in the same section
- Sections can be imported into RISA-3D, RISA-2D and RISAFloor

Try RISASection today and see how good structural engineering software can be!
